Statement Regarding Domestic Preferences

This statement provides our analysis that the items identified in the attached schedules meet the following requirements specified by the regulations implementing the Buy American Act; Trade Agreements Act; and Build America, Buy America Act:

Buy American Act - FAR 52.225-9, Buy American—Construction Materials (OCT 2022)

- The items identified on Schedule A should be considered domestic construction materials because they are fasteners that are COTS items and manufactured in the United States.

Trade Agreements Act - FAR 52.225-11, Buy American—Construction Materials under Trade Agreements (DEC 2022)

- The items identified on Schedule A should be considered domestic construction materials because they are fasteners that are COTS items and manufactured in the United States.
- The items identified on Schedule B should be considered designated country construction materials because they are materials that consist in whole or in part of materials from another country and were substantially transformed in a designated country (Taiwan) into a new and different construction material distinct from the materials from which it was transformed.

Build America, Buy America Act - 2 CFR Part 184, Buy America Preferences for Infrastructure Projects

- The items identified on Schedule A should be considered produced in the United States because they wholly or predominately consist of iron or steel or a combination of both and all manufacturing processes, from the initial melting stage through the application of coatings, occurred in the United States.

In performing our analysis for this statement and attached schedules, we considered the regulations and our supply chains at the time we prepared the analysis. This statement does not purport to identify the appropriate obligations under any particular contract or to assess whether a specific product meets those requirements, which is the prime contractor's responsibility.

Additionally, regarding 2 CFR Part 184, each Federal agency must issue implementing guidance, which may differ from agency to agency. If you have specific agency requirements that you would like us to comment on, please let us know.

Further, if you would like a certificate of compliance or certificate of origin for a particular shipment of Atlas products, please contact our customer service team at (800)321-6846
